

Abridged Biography | Dr Sibusiso Chalufu

Sibusiso Chalufu obtained his undergraduate and Honours degrees from the then the University of Durban-Westville (now the University of KwaZulu-Natal – UKZN) and two Masters' degrees from the University of Bristol and the State University of New York at Buffalo, respectively. He has a Ph.D. from the University of Pretoria. He has received training from United Nations University (Japan), the National Institute of Educational Planning and Administration (India) and the Galilee International Management Institute (Israel). He has served as an academic researcher, student affairs practitioner and executive manager for more than 20 years at UP, CPUT, UKZN, and UNISA.

He is currently the Executive Director: Student Life and Transformation at NWU. He has been part of several research projects, including culminating in the first book on mergers in higher education in Africa. He has recently contributed a chapter in the latest book on the Fees Must Fall era and an article on student governance and engagement for student success in the Kagisano No. 12 Journal (2020). Dr Chalufu is the President of the South African Association of Senior Student Affairs Professionals (SAASSAP) and serves as Institutional Networking Coordinator of Bayoom Hub, an international non-profit social enterprise.
