

Abridged Biography | Mr Duncan Greaves

Duncan Greaves trained as a political scientist at the then University of Natal, an institution that he later served variously as a lecturer in political studies, as Academic Computing Manager, and as IT Director. He has worked for TENET since 2003 and has been its CEO since 2013. He has published on problems in Marxism and the theory of justice, and on policy and conceptual aspects of the interface between information technology and the idea of a university.
